INTRODUCTION

This document applies to the BWSW Board, BWSW committees (including Disciplines) and the Advisory Council as specified below. Discipline sub-committees and members of Disciplines and sub-committees are deemed to be included within the description of committees. This document must be read subject to all relevant codes of sports governance in effect from time to time.

1. NON EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS' ROLE

(i.e. all Directors bar the CEO)

ROLE DESCRIPTION

As members of the Board all Directors are required to:

- Set the organisation's vision, values and standards and ensure that its obligations to the membership and others are understood and met.
- Set the organisation's strategic aims, ensure that the necessary financial and human resources are in place for the organisation to meet its objectives, and review company performance; and
- Provide entrepreneurial leadership of the organisation within a framework of prudent and effective controls which enable risk to be assessed and managed;

In addition to these requirements for all Directors, the role of non-executive Directors has the following key elements:

Strategy Directors should constructively challenge and help develop proposals on strategy.

Performance Directors should scrutinise the performance of the organisation in meeting agreed goals and objectives and monitor the reporting of performance.

Risk Directors should satisfy themselves on the integrity of financial information and that financial controls and systems of risk management are robust and defensible. A comprehensive risk register and business continuity plan is in place and should be reviewed annually.

People Directors have a prime role in appointing and where necessary, removing Directors and in succession planning.

Directors should constantly seek to establish and maintain confidence in the conduct of the organisation. They should be independent in judgement and have an enquiring mind. To be effective, Directors need to build recognition by staff of their contribution in order to promote openness and trust.

To be effective, Directors should be well-informed about the organisation and the external environment in which it operates, with a strong command of issues relevant to the business. Once in post, Directors should seek continually to develop and refresh their knowledge and skills to ensure that their contribution to the management and Board remains informed and relevant.

Best practice dictates that effective Directors ensure that information is provided sufficiently in advance of meetings to enable thorough consideration of the issues facing the Board. Directors should insist that information is sufficient, accurate, clear and timely.

An element of the role of the Director is to understand the views of the membership, both directly and through the Chair, the Chief Executive and the Advisory Council reporting to the Board.

EFFECTIVE DIRECTORS:

- Uphold the highest ethical standards of integrity and probity;
- Support the Chief Executive and staff in their leadership of the organisation while monitoring their conduct;
- Question intelligently, debate constructively, challenge rigorously and decide dispassionately;
- Listen sensitively to the views of others, inside and outside of the Board;
- Gain the trust and respect of other Board members and staff; and
- Promote the highest standards of corporate governance and ensure compliance.

2. OBLIGATIONS UNDER THE COMPANIES ACT 2006

Company law requires Directors to prepare accounts each year which give a true and fair view of the Federation's affairs and of the surplus or deficit for that period. Directors are also responsible for:

- Keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy, at any time, the financial position of the Federation and to enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Companies Act 2006;
- Safeguarding the assets of the company and taking reasonable steps to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities;
- Duties of good faith, skill and care in the governance of the Federation, and in ensuring this applies in all operations of the company.

As an organisation we aim to deliver clear and inspirational leadership for water skiing and wakeboarding and associated disciplines to ensure a vibrant and empowered sport at every level that can evolve to meet every challenge. As part of this aim, we very much recognise the benefits of diversity and inclusion across our wider leadership to include our Board, senior management, committees and key volunteers within the sport.

4. THE ROLE OF THE CHAIRMAN

The Chairman should ensure that all Board and Advisory Council members, when taking up office, are fully briefed on the terms of their appointment, and on their duties and responsibilities. They should also be given a copy of this document; other relevant background material such as the latest corporate plan, recent annual reports and accounts; notes describing BWSW's organisational structure and basis of operation. Induction briefing should be provided for all new members of the Board to outline its role and scope, including minutes of past meetings and the expectations in this document, the work of the organisation and to meet the staff team. The Chairman has particular responsibility, with the Chief Executive, for providing effective strategic leadership on matters such as:

- a) formulating the organisation's business strategy;
- b) representing the views of the organisation to the general public;
- c) encouraging high standards of propriety and promoting efficient and effective use of staff and other resources throughout the organisation.

The Chairman should ensure that the Board meets at regular intervals throughout the year, and that minutes of meetings accurately record decisions taken and, where appropriate, the views of individual Board members. There should be at least 6 Board meetings per year and the articles of association stipulate the size and required composition of the quorum. The Chairman keeps under review, informally, the contributions made by Board members to the organisation's work. Arrangements should be made to review, annually, the activities and effectiveness of the Board via a Board appraisal process, and the contributions made by the Chairman and the individual members. Board members are expected to make every effort to regularly attend Board meetings and liaise outside of these meetings by email, video conference or phone.

The Chief Executive is accountable to the Board for the overall organisation, management, and staffing of the organisation and for its daily operations, including conduct and discipline. Board members should support the Chief Executive in undertaking this responsibility.

The Board has overall responsibility for the conduct of the organisation's finances. The Chief Executive is accountable to the Board for the propriety and regularity of the finances for which the organisations is answerable; for keeping proper accounts; for prudent and economical administration; for avoiding of waste and extravagance; and for the efficient and effective use of all the resources in the organisation's charge. S/he has a responsibility to see that appropriate advice is tendered to the Board on all these matters.

Responsibility for day-to-day matters is delegated to the Chief Executive and staff within a clearly understood framework of strategic direction and management control by the Chief Executive. The Board will delegate responsibility for specified matters to committees of the Board. The following principles apply to powers delegated by the Board:

- a) All such committees have any necessary additional written terms of reference beyond those contained in this document, which state clearly the extent and limits of their responsibilities and authority.
- b) If relevant, terms of reference must distinguish between issues on which the committees of the Board are empowered to take decisions, and issues on which they advise the Board, but take no final decisions.
- c) Where committees of the Board are acting under delegated authority to take specified decisions, they will provide at least annual written reports to the Board on the decisions taken.

14. COMMITTEE STANDING ORDERS

These Standing Orders apply to all committees and committee members of BWSW and where relevant they also apply to employees of BWSW.

1. Advisory Council members elected as such by the Disciplines are not appointed as directors of the Federation. Appointment to the Board means that the member becomes a Director of BWSW for the term of office. Each Director shall be required to give the Company Secretary such details as may be required by the Register of Companies at any given time.

2. Once elected to the Advisory Council, appointed to the Board or chosen to sit on any BWSW committee a member shall act in the best interests of the sport of water skiing as a whole and specifically in the best interests of BWSW. Club or Regional allegiances must not affect judgement on any issues.

3. BWSW accepts that much of the management of the sport is carried out by persons who may have a personal (family) or commercial (financial) interest in water skiing. BWSW does not wish to prohibit such involved people within the water skiing fraternity from working on its committees. Accordingly the following procedures have been put into place to ensure a fair discussion and decision making process:-

a) All Committee members and BWSW employees are required to complete a Declarations of Interest Form and submit it to our HQ at the start of their term of office or employment. It is incumbent upon the member to notify any changes to this original declaration. Additionally, each Board member will be required to sign a Fit & Proper Persons Declaration – BWSW requires this declaration for all persons who have general control and management over the running of the organisation or the application of its assets.

b) Committee members may take part in discussions at meetings where they may have a personal or family interest, however, this interest must be clearly declared at the start of the discussion. In the event of a vote being needed to reach a decision the member may not vote; in order to not exert an influence on the outcome of any vote the member should not be present during such a vote if so required.

c) Committee members may not take part in discussions or decisions at meetings where they have a commercial interest. This interest must be clearly declared at the start of the discussion and the member concerned may take no part in the discussion or decision; in order to not exert an influence on the outcome of any vote the member should not be present during such a vote if so required.

d) Any committee negotiating contracts on behalf of BWSW will exclude any members who may have a conflict of interest.

4. No contract shall be signed on behalf of BWSW by any committee unless that contract has previously been authorised by the Board through the Chief Executive Officer.

5. Disciplines must not enter into contracts in their own name and all contracts must be entered into in the full name of BWSW.

15. DECLARATION OF INTERESTS & AVOIDING CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Our standards of corporate governance require that Committee Members and staff are not exposed to allegations of conflicts of interests in discharging their responsibilities. Relevant information should be recorded on the declaration of interests form and this will ensure that any potential conflicts of interest are considered. Details are also sought for immediate family (i.e. spouse/partner, children and parents) as allegations of conflicts of interest may extend to the influence of close relatives.

Declarations of interest are requested on appointment and on an annual basis; amendments to the register of interests are further requested at subsequent meetings on a regular basis. Conflicts of interest are recognised, managed by the Chair and recorded. The declaration of members interests is an agenda item at every board meeting, members invited to declare any changes to register.

All staff, volunteers, and management committee members of BWSW will strive to avoid any conflict of interest between the interests of the organisation on the one hand, and personal, professional, and business interests on the other. This includes avoiding actual conflicts of interest as well as the perception of conflicts of interest.

The purposes of this approach is to protect the integrity of the organisation's decision-making process, to enable our stakeholders to have confidence in our integrity, and to protect the integrity and reputation of volunteers, staff and committee members.

Examples of conflicts of interest include:

- 1 A committee member who is also a member who must decide whether fees from members should be increased.
- 2 A committee member who is related to a member of staff and there is decision to be taken on staff pay and/or conditions.
- 3 A committee member who is also on the committee of another organisation that is competing for the same funding.
- 4 A committee member who has shares in a business that may be awarded a contract to do work or provide services for the organisation.

Upon appointment each committee member will make a full, written disclosure of interests, such as relationships, and posts held, that could potentially result in a conflict of interest. This written disclosure will be kept on file and I will be updated as appropriate.

In the course of meetings or activities, committee members will disclose any interests in a transaction or decision where there may be a conflict between the organisations best interests and the committee members best interests or a conflict between the best interests of two organisations that the committee members is involved with.
